aiding production: Producers got the cash?

ing number of organisations from around the world social incentives and funds for content production, as analysts discover International government funding incentives have been the primary driver of growth in the global TV market, according to a new report from the International Association of Broadcasters (IAB) and the International Federation of Airline Pilots' Associations (IFAPA). The report, titled 'Global TV Market: A New Era of Growth', says that the global TV market is expected to reach $1.2 trillion by 2015, up from $800 billion in 2010. The report also notes that the global TV market is becoming increasingly competitive, with new entrants from emerging markets and established players from developed markets.
